

Wireframes:

Global Elements and Guest Listing -> Posting

Structure Overview

App Content (ex. Guest Listing): Brought in from each application to use a common style and front-end. Even if the apps are structurally and architecturally different, the experience comes across as seamless - allowing for a more cohesive design and visual language

Wireframes: Main Admin Component

- Brand-specific: Instead of some sort of 'Hilton Worldwide' branding, the main admin could be specific to the Hilton brand using it. Only this component would have its own branding. The rest of the UI would be universal.
- The user would be displayed with their role and privileges still defined by the tasks associated
- Drop down could be used to log out, adjust settings (if there are any), change users, etc

Wireframes: Main Nav Sidebar Component

- Providing a consistent navigation will help streamline the system and functions through all of the applications and enhance usability

1) Primary: App-Level

2) Secondary: Action / Category Level

Global Elements

Global Elements: Main Admin and Main Nav Sidebar components are global (blue). The content view is what will change depending on the application. Although the top chrome style will be consistent (green).

[illegible]

Wireframes: Guest Listing

Guest Listing: Brought in from each application to use a common style and front-end. Even if the apps are structurally and architecturally different, the experience comes across as seamless - allowing for a more cohesive design and visual language

Wireframes: Stay Record

Stay Record: A better visual layout and hierarchy gives the user quicker access to desired information. It also allows us to integrate some actions and functions contextually into the UI, instead of relying on popups for everything.

Wireframes: Posting Overview

Posting Overview: Individual receipts added, split, merged, etc all in a module that provides a better overview of the entire account and its categories.

Category totals within receipts could easily be moved to another receipt with a simple drag n' drop action (think Photoshop visually).

Wireframes: Posting

Posting: The primary guest and room info is still relevant when looking at posting but becomes a secondary priority to the full posting record and its actions. At any time the X in the top right will take the user back to listings.
